Test case 22: Receiving Notification Prior to Election Date

PROPERTIES

Test Case Id:	22
Assigned To:	Hussein Hajj (El)
State:	Design

SUMMARY

The test aims to verify that registered voters who have opted-in for notifications receive a timely alert about an upcoming election. The notification should be clear, actionable, and link to more information within the application.

STEPS

#	Action	Expected value	Attachments
1	Register on the voting platform and opt-in for notifications about election dates.	The system should successfully register you and acknowledge that you have opted to receive notifications.
2	Wait for a notification as the election date approaches.	You should receive a notification at a predetermined time before the election date. The notification should clearly state the election date and any other relevant details.
3	Click on the received notification.	The notification should take you to the corresponding section of the application where more details about the upcoming election are available.

Test case 26: Accuracy of Election Date in the Notification

PROPERTIES

Test Case Id:	26
Assigned To:	Hussein Hajj (El)
State:	Design

SUMMARY

The objective of this test is to confirm the accuracy of the election date mentioned in the notifications provided by the voting platform. The test aims to ensure that voters can rely on the information in the notifications to make accurate plans for voting, without worrying about discrepancies or inaccuracies. By successfully completing these actions and meeting the expected results, you can establish that the platform is a reliable source for critical election date information.

#	Action	Expected value	Attachments
1	Upon receiving the election date notification, verify the date against an official source.	The date mentioned in the notification should align exactly with the official election date as published or announced by relevant authorities.
2	Check for additional details in the notification, such as the time polls open and close, and verify these against official sources.	Any additional details about the election, such as the times polls open and close, should also be accurate and match with the official information provided.
3	Wait until the actual election date and verify that the election is indeed occurring on that date.	The election should take place on the exact date you were notified about, confirming the accuracy of the notification.
